- Importance of Checking LSCC Email
  All employees are responsible for checking LSCC email daily (M-F) to ensure a 24 hour response time. Faculty who teach online should check email at least once over the weekend as well. Email is the primary means of communication between the college and the employee and between the employee and students. Information regarding letters of appointment and other important information will be sent to your LSCC email address.

- Blackboard
  All faculty members are responsible for maintaining their online Blackboard course resource accounts. Faculty members are required to post assignments, homework, announcements, handouts, PowerPoints and grades in Blackboard weekly. If a class is cancelled, an alternative assignment is required to be posted in Blackboard as well as an alert announcement.

- Attendance: Faculty members are responsible for posting accurate student attendance in MyLawson, Faculty members must submit their attendance by the end of the first week each term. Attendance should be updated with changes as soon as possible.
• Class Cancellations
  Class cancellations should be avoided and are strongly discouraged at the college. If you are faced with an emergency and have to cancel class, alert your students via Blackboard and seek approval (to cancel) by your Department Chair. If you teach at night, you should also alert the Evening Coordinators. All cancellations at LSCC must be reported. NOTE: Employees who cancel class without notification or have high cancellation rates (exceeding two any given term) are subject to non-renewal of teaching contracts.

• Appointment Letter (LOA) (i.e., when distributed-signature required)
  The Human Resources Office will make every effort to provide appointment letters for signature at least 10 days before payroll is processed. An e-mail notification will be sent to your LSCC email address when appointment letters are available. All employees are responsible for reviewing appointment letters for accuracy and signing the appointment letter before payroll is processed. If you fail to review and/or sign your appointment letter, it could result in a delay of payment. Additionally, unsigned appointment letters may result in disciplinary action.
